Local students recognized nationally

Congratulations to Macon County students who are part of the Auburn University College of Liberal Arts mentoring program. Students won Honorable Mention for their submission to the first-ever National Civic Data Challenge of the National Conference on Citizenship in Philadelphia, Pa. where attendees at the conference were able to view their work. For more information on the project and to see a video produced by collaborators Jocelyn Zanzot and Dan Neil, visit www.designingcivichealth.net. A framed set of four original posters hangs in the Macon County Courthouse.

TIMS honor

During the Tuskegee Institute Middle School's (TIMS) 32-0 victory over the Bullock County Hornets Tuesday, Sept. 11 at Booker Washington High School Eagle Stadium, students and the faculty TIMS honored a group of well-served individuals, our local veterans and first responders.

Principal Rosemary Wright shared the idea of organizing a 9-11 tribute, but wanted to give a special "thanks" to the organizer and principal A.D. Drew who took the lead and did an outstanding job.

Within a few days, Drew came through with a small but significant event to honor the veterans and first responders.
